The site had been vacant since the city's transition to Light from the Bell system in 2009 when it was constructed to serve CenturyLink Field. In May 2010, the city opened the new stadium, which is also known as KeyArena, to the public. At the time, the city's plan called for the expansion of the existing soccer venue at a cost of $3.5 billion and a new football stadium to add to its footprint.

However, for much of the past couple of decades, Ballard had been a major home for the Bell system, which operated as two different entities and was never connected to one another under the terms of the Bell agreement. During the Bell era, the Seahawks and their supporters group, the Sounders FC, were part of the team's success. The expansion team played at a new, expanded soccer field in 2014, while a new soccer stadium was developed. Last summer, however, the team's ownership group purchased another new soccer stadium, this one located just west of KeyArena.. "What I am about to share in person is not a gun, nor are we talking about the weapon of mass death," Pemberton said. "We are talking about an emotional, powerful emotional trauma. That is what we've got to deal with in our lives right now."... The site will be used for the development of an 8.5-acre parking lot with a retractable roof that will be used for the development of a public plaza adjacent to the parking structure and for future residential development. This park will be accessible from Seattle Center, the new field, but the plans call for it to remain part of the city's revitalization.. "The children, the entire school is afraid of the gunman and they're afraid for the world to be a safe place," she said. "It's what our system doesn't allow us to have."... In the aftermath of the deadly school massacre last December, Congress passed the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which allows teachers the ability to use force to prevent a threat to students or staff, while ensuring that they are required to report their encounters when students pose an immediate threat to others.
